STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

Every soldier in Lewiston and Auburn will sign the petition to Congress for a pension to Mrs. C. A. L. Sampson. The petition is presented by Col. Henry G. Staples, of Augusta, a Colonel in the 3d Maine, during the war.

At a meeting of the trustees of ... on the 28th of August, it was decided to close the State Fair trotting entries on the 8th day of September, instead of the 10th, as heretofore advertised. Entries for the Presumpscot Park meeting of September 16th and 17th, will also close at the same time. The above changes are made by the particular request of prominent horsemen.

Saturday afternoon, Jerry Blake, at work for O. Helway & Co., Auburn, was badly hurt at the four sheds in Auburn. He was climbing to a box car while it was in motion. A telegraph pole near the track struck him, knocking him down between the moving car and the platform. The space was less than a foot and he was rolled over and over in it. His collar bone was dislocated and he received internal injuries. The physicians think that he will recover. He lives in Libby's block, on Lincoln street, Lewiston.

Cumberland.

Ensign William A. Thom, U. S. N., has returned home from his cruise in the Mediterranean and is visiting his father, Gen. George Thom, in Portland.

Bradford Angell has been appointed general passenger and baggage agent of the Eastern and Maine Central railroads, with offices at Portland and Boston.

Three men in a row boat were capsized off Bug Light, Sunday afternoon, but were picked up by the steamer Emita just as they were sinking for the last time. They were pretty well exhausted. Captain Sterling and pilot Craig did everything in their power to make the men comfortable.

Franklin.

The Farmington Journal says: James Ames of Jefferson, formerly of Lewiston, now aged seventy-two, went to Temple last week where he has a sister, Mrs. Joseph Russell, whom he has not seen for twenty-seven years. Mrs. Russell recognized him as her brother. Mrs. Converse Moody is another sister, but she is unable to recognize him although her husband does. Mrs. Moody declared he is a tramp. He is stopping a few days with Mrs Charles Welch, who is a niece of his. Mr. Ames is an old man and feels terribly to think Mrs. Moody does not know him.

John Haley, of Howland, mentioned as being in Saco recently, started from the residence of Samuel E. Bean, on Lincoln street, Biddeford, one day last week, and walked to Palmer's Hotel at Bar Mills, a distance of twelve miles. The journey was made in just four hours. Mr. Haley is eighty-two years of age, and is a very hardy, well preserved old gentleman.

As the carriage containing Hon. John B. Finch, Mrs Whiting and daughters, was being driven to the tabernacle, Friday afternoon, the driver paid more attention to the fire than to his horse. As a result the carriage was overturned, severely bruising one of the young ladies. Mrs. Whiting was injured slightly about the head. The other daughter and Mr. Finch escaped with a pretty rough shaking up and a few slight bruises. Had it not been for Mr. Finch's presence of mind, the accident must have been serious, as the party were completely trapped in the top of the buggy.

The Irish-American Vote.

ELLSWORTH, MAINE.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier:

What is the trouble between the Irish-Americans of Bangor and the Commercial, or why are the columns of that paper devoted to the abuse of Irish-Americans for doing what its proprietor has done himself—changing their political views? He is continually parading knownothingism before the public, and Irishmen can safely judge from the last week's issues of the Commercial, had it existed thirty years ago with its present staff, it would have taken first prize as a knownothing organ. Knownothingism has no more bearing than cannibalism on the great question which is to be determined at the ensuing election; there is no question to be settled ... or Irishism? And foremost in the ranks to vote back the dictation of a foreign despot should not be found those men who burst the tyrant's bonds and fled from the oppression of Great Britain and found protection beneath the banner of the American Republic.

By the way, there are Irishmen living in Ellsworth, and in every city in Maine, who passed through the fiery ordeal of knownothingism, who can walk out in their own vicinity and point out more men in the Democratic party than in the Republican party who were connected with knownothingism. The worst element of the Republican press have denounced Mr. Blaine and gone in a body and joined hands with their allies across the ocean in supporting Mr. Cleveland. Let them go, and the Republican party should sing a te deum over their departure. But what soothing cordial will the Commercial administer to Irish-American voters now to numb their intellect and paralyze their memory and induce them to join hands with their life-long foes, Harper's Weekly, New York Herald, New York Times and Puck. Those journals have always held Irishmen up to the ridicule of the world. It is an established fact that Harper's Weekly antagonized the Irish people worse than any other paper in this country. Its columns have teemed with abuse of Irishmen and its pages have been devoted to the lowest and most damnable caricature that ever emanated from a vulgar brain! Add to this list the New York Evening Post, a paper that we can trace back to 1804, when it antagonized that illustrious Irishman Thomas Addis Emmet, Dr. McNevin and others of his compatriots, and from one generation to another it has followed the same business until the present time, and yet Irishmen are asked to welcome these vipers as their political advisers.

Speaking of the illustrious Emmet reminds me that Congressman Collins, in a speech recently delivered in New York, referred to him and how the party who stood for English ideas opposed him. Why did he not mention the Evening Post? The memoir of Thomas Addis Emmet says that the New York Evening Post poured a torrent of invective on the head of Emmet. He was at war with the Post and its Brit... [illegible]

... could throw an overwhelming vote in the temperance scale, and deal the great social serpent of evil a stunning blow, from which it is to be hoped he would never fully recover.

"With them to aid us in the fight
That is raging fierce and long;
The virtuous for the true and right,
The wicked for the wrong,—"

we should win a sweeping and glorious victory.

As a Republican I feel proud of the record of our party on the temperance question. It was the Republicans who first passed the great temperance apostle Neal Dow's prohibitory laws. It is that party that has stood like a granite bulwark by it, and added amendment after amendment to it at the solicitation of advanced temperance men, in order to its being more and more thorough and practical in its operation."

I say that progressive party deserves the credit for all the temperance legislation on our statute books to-day, and I think that portion of the total abstinence party who have concluded to run a separate State ticket, however well meaning they may be, are making, to say the least, a grave political blunder.

In view of the past, and what they owe as a debt of gratitude to the Republican party, for doing what they as a party, could never have accomplished, their oblique action comes very ungracious, ill-timed, and savors, in my view, very strongly of ingratitude.

To whom can they look but to the Republican party to carry the proposed amendment for the fate of which they feel so anxious? Where will they look for props to support the temperance edifice, in case of a failure to have their pet measure adopted by the people? What would they be able to do for themselves single handed? Nothing! Would the Democrats furnish the desired props? Let the records of the ... while the Bourbons took it down piece meal, or brought up their retrograde battering-ram of license, and demolished it at a single blow?

Those who expect favors in the future, would do well to show some policy (if they are unfortunately void of gratitude), by both remembering the past, and looking straight and squarely at the future.

Hoping that they will not need the Democratic legislative props to support the grand temple of total abstinence that has stood so long without the proposed underpinning, and that the good men of all parties will unite in September in putting in a basement to it that will raise it still higher, and cause it to stand an honor to the State through all coming time, I am, sir,

Yours for the general good,
FRANK YELLAND.

Lincoln, August, 1884.

Maine to the Front!

Next Monday Maine will [illegible] electing to the whole Union. It will pronounce [illegible] for Republican principles and for Blaine and Logan. The only question now is [illegible] the emphasis of the verdict.

From top to bottom the Republican ticket is good. Gov. Robie deserves a full [illegible] of his admirably administration [illegible] the members of Congress have faithfully represented their constituents, they have stood for American interests [illegible] the encroachments of British monopoly—[illegible] of England. They will receive a vote of confidence without doubt [illegible] the great significance of this election will be in its ratification of the National ticket. All eyes are watching the Maine voters, who are expected to provide for Blaine a majority of good round figures. Will they speak out in November [illegible] for the direct issue.

He says [illegible] vote is all important. [illegible] November [illegible] will take care of itself [illegible]. On [illegible] are watching the [illegible] with [illegible] hope. Outside the Cleveland [illegible] and the British free-trade [illegible] every [illegible] are watching it with fear and trembling. They know that they could strike [illegible] blow [illegible] September [illegible].

[illegible] will [illegible] for Blaine and the [illegible] in September. It should [illegible]. Every Blaine man [illegible] for [illegible] the American [illegible] and the opportunity should not be neglected. It will not [illegible].

The hours are few to the day of election [illegible] the work should be [illegible] early [illegible] his neighbors to the [illegible]. He should work for every honest [illegible] ballot box [illegible] an illegal ballot.

[illegible] honest election and a full vote are [illegible]. [illegible] a great victory in [illegible] the Blaine hosts everywhere [illegible] assuring complete triumph in November.

Now every man strip for the combat!

EVERY ABSENT VOTER should be brought home.

Every man who wants Mr. Blaine for President should vote for Gov. Robie and the present Representatives to Congress.

Every man in this District who believes in protection to American industry [illegible] fair wages of labor and in the real American [illegible] James G. Blaine, will vote for Robie and Boutelle. Every man who believes in free-trade and English monopoly will vote for Redman and Lynch.

Hendricks has not yet been muzzled. He continues to defend Cleveland, and to put his foot in it. He thinks Cleveland ought not to withdraw from the ticket because "three times he has stood the test of a popular canvass and each time has received an indorsement of his neighbors by a vote largely above his party's strength." The record shows that once he was defeated for District Attorney, falling below the average Democratic vote, and that when he was elected sheriff of Erie county he fell 101 votes below the other Democratic candidates. Cleveland's election as Governor was an accident, and that's about the size of him anyway.

The Portland Argus will help Representative Reed among reputable voters by its scurrilous methods of assault. Its latest yarn is to the effect that Mr. Reed went to Europe last year and sold to a syndicate a large tract of public lands, thus depriving in some way the poor people of the privilege of homesteads. Mr. Reed went to Europe on a pleasure trip, he sold no public or any other lands, no lands of any kind were sold, as the Argus alleges, and the cold fact, as usual, takes the wind all out of that organ's latest campaign bubble.

In closing its report of the recent Houlton meeting the Pioneer says: "Hon. C. A. Boutelle, of Bangor, spoke in the evening to an immense crowd in the Opera House, every bit of sitting and standing room being taken up. The speaker made a telling speech, and for two hours held the close attention of his hearers. This closed a gala day at Houlton and a successful Republican demonstration."

The American Policy.

The efforts of Democratic organs and Democratic candidates in Maine to dodge the tariff issue by belieing their own records and eating their own words is of no avail. The American policy of protection to American industry is a perennial issue. It is made so by the demand of American labor, and it is made so by the encroachment of British monopoly and the clamor of the Bourbon Democracy for free trade.

The Republican party meets the issue squarely and say frankly that the protective policy must and shall be maintained. The Democratic party meet it squarely only where they are strong and can afford to defy public sentiment and the national interest in behalf of British free trade. In Kentucky they are openly opposed to the protective policy, and Carlisle, Beck and Blackburn go to Congress in the avowed interest of free trade. In Virginia, Randolph Tucker stands upon a free trade platform. In Ohio, Frank Hurd is renominated because he is a free trader and Converse is defeated because he is a protectionist; in Illinois, Morrison and Springer are continued in Congress to air their free trade notions. All these and many more represent the real Democracy, standing for the low wages and ruinous profits and wages of English free trade.

Disguise it as they may, the Democratic party would destroy the American policy. The English monopolists know this. To illustrate we quote a pamphlet issued by the Free Trade Club of London, and read to an Irish American meeting in New York:

"Let it be understood once for all, that the salvation of England depends upon the destruction of American manufactures, and that THE ONLY POSSIBLE WAY IN WHICH AMERICAN MANUFACTURES CAN BE DESTROYED IS BY FREE TRADE. THIS CAN COME ONLY THROUGH THE DEMOCRACY and Democracy can only secure control of the Republic by the votes of Irishmen [illegible] laughs in her sleeve as she sees [illegible] who left their homes vowing vengeance, serve her interests by working for party which, if it gets control of the country, will inevitably carry out the policy she most desires."

Cleveland dodges the tariff question, refusing to discuss it. But last winter when free trade was rampant in Washington, through the influence of British money, he wrote an approval of the Morrison bill. That bill aimed a death blow at Maine industries, manufacturing, lumbering and agricultural. Carlisle, Morrison, Hurd and Tucker will control the Democratic party in the next House. The free traders in the Senate include almost the entire Democratic membership. A complete Democratic triumph this fall, therefore, would be a complete triumph of the British against the American policy.

Maine voters cannot long hesitate as to their duty. The shuffling Democracy cannot conceal the danger to American industries with their party attitude portends. The straight and honest policy of the Republican party and the well established reputation of its candidates ensure protection and safety to all the interests of the Republic.

The Sheriff's Office

Abandoning all hope of electing their county ticket the Democratic managers are now making assaults upon individual [illegible] two of the more valuable. That trick might have succeeded at some time, but not this year. The voters have their eyes wide open and will not be beguiled by Democratic false pretences.

The first point of attack is the office of Sheriff. That is a very useful possession to the Democratic party, and they are about to make a sort of death struggle to save it. The principal ammunition used at the start is the alleged saving of county expenses under Sheriff Stratton as compared with a previous administration. What this has to do with Mr. Stratton's claim to a re-election, or with Mr. Chapman's qualifications for the office, it puzzles intelligent voters to discover. If this Democratic argument has any point at all, it is fair to say that it is based entirely upon the failure of Sheriff Stratton to enforce the laws he is sworn to enforce as thoroughly as his predecessors enforced them. In fact, this is clearly stated in the claims put forward by Mr. Stratton's friends. The voters must judge for themselves whether they will elect officers for the purpose of neglecting to enforce the laws, as the friends of Mr. Stratton [illegible] or otherwise. Doubtless the county would save great expense if its officials neglected to enforce the law against murder or arson or any other offence. But we do not suppose that even Sheriff Stratton's friends would like to make that an issue.

The plain fact about this office of Sheriff is that it involves certain duties which require a man of certain qualifications to perform. The Sheriff does not make the laws nor control the expense of their just enforcement. His duties are prescribed by law.

The Republicans nominated for Sheriff Mr. Charles D. Chapman of Orrington, a man of experience in the office as deputy, of ability and of probity. He will be one of the many very good Sheriffs Penobscot County has had. He will not use his office for [illegible] purposes. Every Republican should vote for him. He will be elected by a good majority.

A despatch from Cleveland, Ohio, announces the regular daily Blaine convert. It says that Mr. James O'Malley, a lifelong Irish Democrat of Elmore, Ohio, has come out squarely for Blaine and Logan. Mr. O'Malley has great influence among the laboring class there.

It is noticeable that the Bourbon organs have abandoned the effort to deny the rapid conversion of Irish Democratic voters to Republicanism. Their energies are now generally devoted to abusing Irish people who exercise their electoral right.

At the eleventh hour in the campaign be on the watch against Democratic fraud, forgery and falsehood.

The latest campaign dodge is to keep Cleveland quiet. As the Democrats once said [illegible] Tweed's rascality, they now say about the public horror of Cleveland's failings "keep mum and it'll all blow over." But the offence is too rank. It will not down at anybody's bidding.

Of course nobody will believe the Democratic organ when it says the WHIG takes issue with the Republican platform. So there is no use multiplying words with one who never even experiments with the truth.

Even that thick-skinned anything-to-beat-Blaine organ, the Boston Herald, begins to see a point. It observes that "the Democratic and Independent committees will do well to deal out fresher ammunition than the Mulligan letters. That's true. But what would become of the alleged "Independents" should this mess of slander fail them? They must stick to the moral issue, you know.

A Very Large Congressional District.

Some of the difficulties of campaigning in Maine may be inferred from the size of this (the Fourth) Congressional District, which comprises the counties of Penobscot, Piscataquis, Aroostook and Washington. The district is 200 miles long and 180 miles wide and covers 17,280 square miles—a territory as large as the State of Massachusetts. Congressman Boutelle is an enterprising and able man, but to get over such a territory, which has a population of 175,000, and to talk to Frenchmen, Swedes and other nationalities requires campaign work of no mean order.

The meetings in Houlton and Presque Isle were in all respects successful. About 6,000 persons gathered in Houlton and 6,000 in Presque Isle—one-quarter almost of the entire population of the county. They came fifty and sixty miles in carriages to see Mr. Blaine and though greatly disappointed because he did not come, yet they listened attentively for hours to the speeches of Mr. Hamlin, Mr. Boutelle, Mr. McKinley and Governor Robie. Certainly if these meetings are any indications of the result, Maine will give a phenomenal Republican majority this year.—Presque Isle correspondence of the Tribune.

We know that the Republican party is all right now. The Democratic organs have already elected Cleveland. Blaine will be elected in November with very little trouble. When the Bourbons [illegible] electing their candidates very early are certainly on the run.

As the campaign warms up, the old Democratic methods [illegible]. In New [illegible] the other day a meeting of Irish [illegible] was called to organize a Blaine club. A Democratic mob tried to break it [illegible] violence. Several other like efforts [illegible] recorded in New York. And in [illegible] the Democrats seem to take the ground that the Irish have no rights which they are bound to respect, for they club [illegible] procession of Irishmen who will vote for Blaine and Logan. By their fruits [illegible] shall know them. A modern [illegible] free-trade Democrat is naturally and a mobocrat.

We know that the Bourbons are [illegible] panicky retreat now. They are belittling Republican meetings. That was [illegible] game in 1882 just before they were routed. History will repeat itself.

A vote for Boutelle is a vote for protection and fair wages for labor. A vote for Lynch is a vote for British free trade.

Mr. [illegible] Maher, of Augusta, in [illegible] for the Republican ticket, furnishes some mighty interesting reading for Democrats. The woods seem to be full of Irish-American Republicans this fall.

The Democratic organ with [illegible] the meanness flung at Mr. Daniel F. [illegible] that he would take the Republican nomination for Representative "in place of the proffered thirty pieces of silver." [illegible] they go to work on their own [illegible] nominate Mr. Thomas [illegible] Stewart [illegible] they mean to reflect upon Mr. Stewart's integrity?

Campaign Clippings

We can assure Mr. Blaine from daily intercourse with the readers of [illegible] that the man who has done him deepest service in this campaign is General Bragg, of Wisconsin, who said at the [illegible] "The Irish may go [illegible] [illegible] they are likely to effect [illegible] damn Mr. Bragg's political possibility. Mr. Bragg has an easy name to remember.—Boston Pilot.

The proverb, "You can't almost always tell what you sometimes least expect most," was recently verified at [illegible]. The Democrats formed a campaign club, but when they came to name it, [illegible] proposition to call it after Cleveland [illegible] Hendricks was voted down, and "Blaine and Logan" was substituted by a vote of 21 to 17.

Butler's vote is of no consequence [illegible] this State, certainly, to Blaine, as he knows perfectly well. Blaine will have a handsome majority over all in Massachusetts, and the only question of speculative interest here is whether Butler or Cleveland will poll the largest Democratic vote. Believing in the total depravity of the Democratic party we incline to think it will give Cleveland the preference—but the margin will be slight, as there is a good deal of original sin about "the old man." If his private life were as bad as Cleveland's is admitted to be, we should say he would capture the largest fraction of the Democratic vote. It is his misfortune, however, to have lived a pure personal life. This cuts him off from the support of all the "better element," including those powerful organs of moral character, the Herald and Times.—Boston Traveller.

The Democrats in Indiana are making an earnest fight on the tariff issue. Ex-Senator McDonald has resurrected a free trade pamphlet prepared forty years ago by Governor Whitcomb, which has been reprinted by the State Committee and is being widely circulated for campaign purposes.

Here is additional proof that labor is better rewarded in the United States than in England:

Received payment for executing Patrick Morrisey the sum of $650.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

Received payment for executing Patrick O'Connell at Dublin Castle the sum of ten pounds, [£10—$50].

Death of a Prominent Citizen

EASTPORT, Sept. 2.—Charles C. Norton, postmaster in Eastport since 1861, an influential Republican politician, died to-day after a long illness, aged 56.

SUDDEN DEATH of Senator Anthony.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 3.—Hon. Henry B. Anthony, senior Senator of the United States, of Rhode Island, died at his residence this afternoon, aged sixty-nine years, five months and one day. He was in more than usual health yesterday, having spent some hours in the Journal office, and was feeling in usual cheerful good spirits when not oppressed by pain and the weakness of his chronic disease. He passed a comfortable night, took breakfast about ten o'clock with good appetite. Shortly afterwards he was observed to be growing pale and was attacked by uremic convulsions from which he did not recover and passed away at 1.45.

The Funeral of Senator Anthony will be held Saturday at 12 M., in the First Congregational Church. The funeral will be in charge of the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate and will be attended by a committee of fifteen members of the Senate to be appointed by the President, Senator Edmunds. His Excellency Gov. Bourn, by proclamation has requested the attendance of the members of the General Assembly and state officers at the funeral, and has designated a committee of the two houses to attend officially. Very feeling and sympathetic tributes of regret and affection have been received from Senators and others associated with him in his long career of public life.

LOSS OF THE TALLAPOOSA.

The Court of Inquiry.

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—The court of inquiry into the circumstances attending the loss of the U. S. steamer Tallapoosa was convened this morning at the Navy Yard, Charlestown. The board consists of Capt. D. B. Harmony, President, Lieut. S. C. Lemly, Judge Advocate; Capt. Bradford, Capt. F. M. Bunce, Capt. Freeman. Lord of Boothbay, Maine, master of the schooner, was the first witness called. He gave an account of the manner in which the collision occurred, substantially as already been published, being particularly positive that the course of the schooner was not changed and that it was a change of course on the part of the [illegible] that caused the collision. The inquiry to-day was taken up with the examination of Capt. Reed. The Court then adjourned till to-morrow.

STATIONARY ENGINEERS.

The National Convention

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 2. The third annual meeting of the National Association of Stationary Engineers met at this city to-day. J. G. Beckerley of Chicago, President, in the chair. The report of the President was presented and read, in which he advocates laws for the protection of engineers. The report of the Secretary showed there are 58 subordinate associations, comprising about 2000 members.

SERIOUS RIOTS.

Numerous Deaths and Many Wounded.

St. Johns, N. F., Sept. 2. Orange and Roman Catholic collisions on a large scale are reported from Clinton and Henly Harbor on the Labrador coast. Fire arms were freely used, and some deaths and many wounded are reported. A [illegible] has been dispatched by the Newfoundland Government to the scene of the trouble.

Wells, of [illegible], who fell overboard from the [illegible] Sunday, the 24th of August near Diamond Isle, in Lake Winnipesaukee. So far there has been no trace of the body. [illegible] of twenty-five persons have been drowned in this lake and but one of them was ever recovered. Divers [illegible] the bottom of the lake to be hilly and rocky.

RAILROAD NEWS.

War Declared

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. Open war has been declared by the Erie against the Grand Trunk. At the Wabash and Pacific [illegible] tickets to St Louis were sold [illegible] at $17. At other offices [illegible] were maintained, but the scalpers [illegible] and tickets to Chicago [illegible] from $14 to $16.

THE OAR.

Teemer Defeats Hosmer.

LOWELL, Mass., Sept. 2. The three [illegible] between John Teemer, of McKeesport, Pa., and George H. Hosmer of Boston was rowed this afternoon [illegible] Andover. The course was [illegible] of a mile each way. [illegible] five seconds given to [illegible]. There were no stakes, the agreement being to divide the gate money, two-thirds to the winner and one-third to the loser. There was a large attendance of [illegible] and sporting men. The weather was very propitious. It was nearly five o'clock when the oarsmen drew into line for the word. It lacked one minute and thirty-eight seconds of five o'clock when the referee gave the word "go" to Hosmer [illegible] seconds after Teemer was started. [illegible] started 32 strokes to Teemer's [illegible] both [illegible] rowed wildly at first, but Teemer overhauled his opponent and turned the first stake boat even. Then Teemer began steadily to pull away from Hosmer who already showed signs of weakness. The mile and a half stake was turned by Teemer in 9.52, with Hosmer four lengths behind. Here Hosmer, in turning too short, fouled the anchor line of the stake boat but Teemer waited for him to get clear. On the third quarter Teemer increased his lead and turned the last stake nearly [illegible] lengths ahead. [illegible] Hosmer spurted and nearly closed [illegible] but when a quarter of a mile from the finish Teemer also spurted, crossing the finish a winner by a length and a half, time 20.8. Hosmer's time was [illegible] seconds slower. The race was a financial failure, not more than 1500 spectators being present. E. B. Rankin acted as referee.

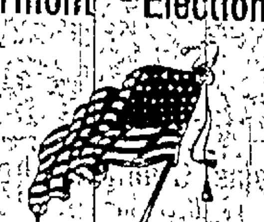

AN INTERESTING EXHIBITION.

The Electrical Exhibition at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2. The building which was specially erected for the purpose of the International electrical exhibition is built of iron, wood and glass with four towers, one at each corner and sixty feet in length. At intervals are shields bearing the names of States and men identified with the progress of electricity. There are broad galleries running around the main building, affording a fine view of the interior. Some of the companies display handsomely furnished bedrooms, etc., to show the effect of the light in the illumination of private residences. The exhibits are tastefully arranged, the most brilliant probably being a display made by Edison and the United States Electric Light Company.

The various displays cover also the most intricate and interesting appliances for showing the production, movement, and practical application of electricity, including telegraph, telephone and electric clocks; electricity as applied in naval and land warfare, surgery, photography, mining, blasting, music writing and printing. The Electrical World, a paper published in New York, devoted to the science of electricity has established a branch office in the building and will print the World there by electricity as long as the exhibition shall be open. The Electrical World exhibit thus forms one of the most interesting, the papers being printed without steam, the cylinder press being run by the Daft motor.

Vermont Election!

HANDSOME REPUBLICAN VICTORY

In Spite of Determined Opposition.

INCOMPLETE RETURNS INDICATE

A Majority of 20,000 in the State.

Full Returns will Probably Increase these Figures.

BOSTON, Sept. 2. Scattering returns from Vermont give no marked indication of the result. Springfield gives Pingree, Republican, 443; Reddington 124. In 1880 the Republican vote was 587; Democratic vote 143; Grant, Republican, for Congress receives 419; Goddard, Democrat, 122. Waterbury gives Pingree 260, against 327 in 1880, and Reddington 96, against 130 in 1880. Cummings, Greenbacker, 20, against 64 in 1880. At Morrisville the Republicans gain 41, the Democrats 20. At the last election the Greenback vote was 70; this year none.

Returns From Twenty-five Towns.

BOSTON, Sept. 3. Twenty-five towns in Vermont give Pingree, 11,071; Reddington, 5,660. Last year Farnham had 13,780 and Phelps 6,230. The indications are that Pingree's majority will be less than 22,000.

A Majority of 20,000 or More.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Sept. 2. Returns from 114 towns give Pingree (Rep.), for Governor, 24,663; Reddington (Dem.), 11,070; Soule (Greenback), 254; Stone (Ind.), and scattering, 105, giving Pingree a majority over all of 12,273. The same towns in 1880 gave Farnham (Rep.) 27,405; Phelps (Dem.), 12,650, giving Farnham a majority of 14,755. This shows a falling off in the Republican vote from 1880 of 2,38?, and in the Democratic vote a falling off from 1880 of 680.

For Congress, in the First District, Stewart, Republican, has 7,237; Simmons, Democrat, 2,359; Kidder, Greenbacker, and scattering, 182, giving Stewart a majority of 4,600.

In the Second District, Grant, Republican, has 12,121, Goddard, Democrat, 6,214; Cummings, Greenbacker, and scattering, 113, giving Grant a majority of 6,764.

The towns not heard from gave in 1880, for Farnham, 27,405; for Phelps, 12,650, making Farnham's majority 14,755. At this rate the Republican majority for Governor will be about 20,000. The Legislature will stand 88 Republicans, 14 Democrats, 1 Greenbacker and 1 Independent.

POLITICAL.

New Hampshire Republicans—Hon. Moody Currier, Nominated.

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 1. The Republican State Convention was called to order by Chairman Gallinger, of the State Committee, at 11.35 this forenoon, with a large attendance of delegates and spectators. His address, although brief, was well received. He claimed that the party nominees would receive 50,000 majority in New Hampshire. The organization recommended at a meeting of the State Committee last evening was adopted, and the gentleman named at that time was elected as the permanent officer.

Mr. Greene, the chairman, then delivered his address. He alluded to the brilliant record of the Republican party, and the great fundamental truths which had developed such men as Lincoln, Grant and Garfield. He urged that the Republican party favored a good government of the people, by the people and for the people, with all that such a government implies.

He conceded that the revenue of to-day is in excess of the wants of the Government, and asserted it to be the purpose of the Republican party to relieve the people from any unnecessary burdens. Regarding our foreign policy, he believed in a policy that minds our own business and expects other nations to mind theirs; that asserts its right and maintains it. He spoke in eulogistic terms of Blaine and Logan. Mr. Greene was frequently interrupted with applause, his allusions to Blaine and Logan evoking great enthusiasm.

The Committee on Credentials reported that 584 of the 615 delegates to which a full convention would be entitled were present. On motion of Mr. Twitchell, of Gratham, the convention proceeded to ballot for a candidate for Governor by counties. The ballot for Governor resulted as follows: Whole number, 566; necessary to a choice, 284; scattering, 10; David H. Goodell, of Antrim, 140; Moody Currier, of Manchester, 410. On motion of Mr. Bowers, of Newport, Mr. Currier's nomination was made unanimous. A committee of five was appointed to notify Mr. Currier of his nomination, and request his acceptance of the same. The committee escorted Mr. Currier to the platform, where he accepted the nomination in an address.

Mr. Currier, in his address to the convention, said he had been a life-long Republican, and labored for the success of a party which stood for human freedom, loyalty, equality before the law, protection to American industry, and the defence of all citizens, high and low. He asked his hearers to cling to this party, which had done so much for moral development and human prosperity, and follow out its principles. Mr. Currier was accorded a warm reception.

George W. Libbey, of Whitefield, was nominated for first Presidential Elector-at-Large, by acclamation. The names of James E. Larkin, of Concord, and Frank C. Churchill, of Lebanon, were presented as candidates for second elector-at-large. Mr. Larkin was nominated by a rising vote.

Mr. Hackett, of Portsmouth, from the committee, reported the resolutions, which were adopted. Referring to the candidates the resolution says: It is evident that only those who have proved their hearty allegiance to such principles, ought to be entrusted with the the administration of the government, and all who accept them will be cordially welcomed to their support, under the leadership of the able man, brilliant orator and experienced statesman, James G. Blaine, who has been nominated for the office of President of the United States; and of the gallant soldier, and tried legislator, J. A. Logan. The Republicans of New Hampshire pledge their undivided vote, and predict throughout the whole land a triumphant victory. The Republicans of New Hampshire offer for the suffrages of the office of Governor Hon. Moody Currier, of Manchester, in full confidence that his ability and integrity will honor the office to which he will be elected.

The convention then resolved itself into county conventions for the choice of one hundred members of the State Committee. After the names of the committee had been reported the convention adjourned.

CONNECTICUT DEMOCRATS.

Waller forced to Take the Nomination Amid Confusion.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 2. The Democratic State Convention met to-day. E. W. Seymour was made temporary chairman and briefly addressed the convention. Mr. Seymour the temporary chairman was made permanent president. An informal ballot was [illegible] for Governor. [illegible] opposed, and a scene of confusion followed. The letter was not read.

An informal ballot was taken, and Thomas M. Waller had 207; George G. Sumner, 94. It was moved to make the nomination of Waller by acclamation. Several delegates opposed this, saying that Waller had written a letter declining the nomination and they wanted it read. The letter was read but he did not say he would refuse a nomination if tendered him. Waller was renominated for Governor by acclamation. Lieut. Governor Sumner was then renominated for Lieut. Governor by acclamation.

D. Ward Northrup, of Middleton, was then renominated for Secretary of State by acclamation; and Alfred Goodrich was renominated Treasurer by acclamation.

THE TURF.

Races at Hampden Park.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 2. The Hampden Park Association opened its sixteenth annual meeting this afternoon. An unusually large crowd was present. The weather was fine and the track fast. The first race was the 2.30 class, purse $1,000, in which eleven horses started. Hambletonian won the first heat and Kenilworth the next three in 2.25¼, 2.25½, 2.25¼, 2.25. The 2.21 race was very exciting, all the heats being closely contested. There were only four starters, H. B. Winship, Ezra L., Pauline and King Almont having failed to appear. The purse was $1,000. Adelaide won the first, second and fifth heats and Judge Davis the third and fourth; time 2.21¼, 2.21, 2.23, 2.21, 2.21. The 2.25 class, pacing, purse $600, was unfinished, Missouri Boy having won two heats and Billy M. one, when a postponement was necessary on account of darkness.

BURGLARS CAPTURED

And Considerable of the Booty Recovered.

LAWRENCE, Sept. 2. The night of June 20th the jewelry and stationary stores of S. W. Fellows and W. E. Rice, of this city, were burglarized and watches, jewelry, and gold penholders stolen to the value of $300. Marshal Sullivan has been working on the case and to-day captured one of the burglars at Hampton Beach, recovering considerable of the stolen property. The burglar is a colored man named Richbald, who at one time was employed about the store as porter. He will be arraigned to-morrow in the police court.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Malvina Butler, twenty years of age, wife of Arthur Butler, met a strange death at East Boston Tuesday morning. She was leaning over a stove when a bullet crashed through the window, and struck on her left breast. The bullet caused merely a bruise and dropped to the floor. She lingered a few seconds and died. It is believed that the shock, and intense bleeding over the heart, caused her death. The theory is that the ball came from Charlestown.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS—A SLIM AFFAIR. About thirty voters were present at the Democratic caucus last evening. The bell on City Hall was rung several times to call attention to the meeting and at eight o'clock the assembly was called to order by Mr. Lewis Murch, chairman of the City Committee. Mr. Murch called upon Chas. F. Ward to preside, Henry A. Wing was chosen secretary of the meeting. Gen. Gorham L. Boynton presented the name of Thomas J. Stewart for first Representative; he was nominated by acclamation. Moses M. Hastings and Thomas White were also nominated by acclamation. A committee was appointed consisting of one member from each ward to report a committee of four from each ward to do service at the polls next Monday.

The grocery store of Mr. E. F. Atwell at Orono, was broken into on Monday night. Upon opening his store in the morning Mr. Atwell discovered his alarm money drawer partly open. Two other small cash drawers were taken out and carefully laid on the floor. There was no money left in the drawers when they were closed by Mr. Atwell that night. The doors to the four show cases were all left wide open and still nothing was disturbed. The proprietor does not miss one identical thing. The thieves were evidently after money. Finding none they very considerately left without disturbing anything. Mr. Samuel Libbey's drug store on the opposite side of the street, also showed marks of having callers on that same night, his show windows being badly scratched or cut by some sharp instrument similar to a diamond.

Another Magnificent Meeting.

NOROMBEGA CROWDED.

Speeches by General Hawley and Senator Cullom of Illinois.

Immense Enthusiasm.

The Republicans held another grand rally at Norombega Hall last evening, surpassing in attendance and enthusiasm any which have preceded it. The announcement that the distinguished soldier and able and eloquent statesman, General Hawley, of Connecticut, was enough in itself to draw out an audience, but in addition to General Hawley the audience were surprised and delighted to have with them Senator Cullom, of Illinois, who arrived here unexpectedly on last evening's train.

The speakers were escorted to the hall by the Loyal League, Blaine Guards, and Blaine Cadets, headed by the Bangor Band.

The streets were filled with people to see the parade, which was very fine.

The speakers entered the hall just before eight o'clock, General Hawley with Mr. J. G. Clark, President of the Blaine and Logan Club, and Senator Cullom with Col. Jasper Hutchings.

The hall was well filled before the arrival of the speakers and was immediately filled to overflowing. As the speakers entered the hall they were greeted with loud applause, which was revived as the uniformed companies entered the hall.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Clark, who called on the Campaign Glee Club, who sang "Come Once Again ye Gallant Boys." They were loudly encored and responded with "Champions of Liberty."

Mr. Clark then spoke briefly upon the importance of every voter seeing that his name was upon the check list, and called upon Col. Jasper Hutchings to act as chairman of the meeting.

Col. Hutchings assumed the chair, saying that he esteemed it as a great privilege to preside over so large a meeting of the intelligent and earnest men and women of Bangor, and believed that he could not serve them better than to at once introduce to them the gallant soldier and statesman, General Hawley, United States Senator from Connecticut.

As General Hawley came forward he was received with immense and long continued applause, followed by three ringing cheers and more applause.

SENATOR HAWLEY'S SPEECH.

General Hawley commenced by saying that a man must be insensible not to appreciate and be grateful for such a greeting as he had received. He said it was probably twelve or sixteen years since he addressed a Bangor audience, and probably but few present had ever before seen or remembered him. He owed to the Republican party the privilege of calling them fellow citizens, for until the amendment to the Constitution defining citizenship a man could only greet his fellow-citizens of his own State by that title. He said we are here to-night with two parties striving for the supremacy. They have met in convention, nominated their candidates, and now have gone to a jury of fifty six millions of people for trial, and to decide whether the present party shall be continued in charge of the government, or whether they are to be succeeded by another party. He was there to advance the claims of the Republican party, and in a brief but eloquent review of the record of the party during the twenty-three years they have been in control of the government, asked what there was in it to be ashamed of? what there was in it not to be proud of? and what the Democratic party had done in that time to be proud of. His review of the many important and magnificent acts of the Republican party was forcible and telling, and was received with the heartiest outbursts of applause. He said that sometimes we overlooked the fact that as great moral courage was required in the halls of legislation during the trying hours of the rebellion as upon the battle field, and that foremost among those in the halls of Congress, after 1862, who upheld the cause of our country and provided [illegible] for its restoration, was James G. Blaine. (Loud applause.)

Referring to the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution, defining [illegible] citizenship, he said the Democratic party had never lifted a finger to [illegible] establishment of the doctrine [illegible] expatriate himself from the [illegible] birth and become the citizen [illegible] and be protected in his rights [illegible] citizenship. He spoke of the rapid [illegible] which the national debt had been [illegible] and also the amount of interest [illegible] 1865 was $4.29 per year to each [illegible] and now but eighty-six cents [illegible] He compared the losses of the United States in its collections and disbursements during the different administrations from the foundation of the government to the present, ranging from $11.71 on a thousand dollars in Jackson's to collections and disbursements down to six mills on collections and one-half that on disbursements in the first two years of Arthur's. He did not believe the people demanded a change for any such reasons as these. Such an exhibit cannot be found in the world, either in public or private business. Our credit in foreign markets is highest of that of any country in the world, both because they believe in our honor, and our ability to pay. He asked why then do the Democrats say we ought to be turned out. They do not now oppose us upon the great questions which we have settled, but admit that there is no use to contest them. The issue upon the tariff question is as near an issue as any. He then made a review of the tariff plank in the Democratic platform, showing how it was made to be all things to all men, and showed by the [illegible] in Congress what it [illegible] The Democrats claim that we have had full control of the government [illegible] years out of ten they have had [illegible] the House of Representatives [illegible] years of the Senate. Why have [illegible] they given us a good tariff [illegible] When they had seventy majority in the House forty-one of their own [illegible] voted with ours and defeated the [illegible] they had prepared. The Democratic party [illegible] free trade, but the people of this country do not want it, and they have men in their own party who care more for country than party and who [illegible] that they are better than their party. The speaker drew a vivid picture of the benefits of protection to the farming, as well as the manufacturing interests of the [illegible]

[illegible] policy, England was the most vindictive and protective government in the world, and that the taxes upon her common people were more onerous than those upon ours, as England taxes heavily the necessities of life—tea, coffee, sugar and tobacco, while with us tea and coffee are not taxed. Our duty is to take care of our producers and laboring classes in preference to foreign manufacturers. Three-fourths of the Democratic party are committed to free trade, yet they do not dare to proclaim it. The contest is not alone between James G. Blaine and Grover Cleveland, but between John Bull and Brother Jonathan.

He made a brilliant and vivid contrast between the two candidates, briefly reviewing Mr. Blaine's acts and works, and showing that Mr. Cleveland is utterly unknown in regard to his ideas on any national question. He made a glowing reference to Mr. Blaine's oration on the death of Garfield and to his Twenty Years in Congress as showing the breadth of the man and his ability to rise above all personalities. He referred to the Independents who thought themselves too good to remain in the party and made some happy comparisons of their position and its final result. Referring to the claim, of the Democrats that they would have the Solid South, he said that, was only because in those States the Republicans could not cast their ballot freely, and when cast it could not be honestly counted, for half a dozen of these States have a majority of Republican voters. He closed by urging every voter to cast his vote on Monday next so that its effect shall be felt all over the country and Blaine and Logan would be triumphantly elected.

We have been able to give but a few of the many telling points which General Hawley made in his speech, which was two hours in length, and which was listened to with the closest interest, interrupted only with hearty and frequent applause and cheers.

The Glee Club then sang "From Maine to California," after which Senator Cullom, of Illinois, addressed the audience in a forcible and telling speech for half an hour. This is Senator Cullom's first visit to Maine, coming into the State yesterday, and was present at the meeting only accidentally. His speech was a specimen of true Western eloquence and replete with wit and sound common sense. His tributes to Blaine and Logan were thrillingly eloquent and were received with rounds of cheers. It then being half-past ten, he closed, leaving the audience with the hope that they might have the opportunity of listening to him at some future time when he could have more time. He closed by urging upon his hearers to carry out Mr. Clark's suggestion in relation to seeing that their names were on the list, and then to go to the polls Monday and vote, feeling that they were not only electing their State officers, but casting the decisive vote which shall assure Blaine and Logan's triumphant election in November next. The speaker was loudly applauded and heartily cheered during his speech.

The meeting closed with three cheers for the speakers, three for General Logan, called by Mr. Clark, and three for Mr. Blaine, called by Senator Cullom. The Bangor Band played a selection while the crowd were getting out of the hall, after which the speakers were escorted to the Bangor House by the uniformed companies with torches, making a fine display. As they passed Mann's corner a fine display of red lights was made, which gave a brilliant aspect to the scene.

Thus closed at least one of the finest meetings of the campaign.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Enthusiastic Meeting at Plymouth.

A large and enthusiastic open air meeting was held in Plymouth last evening. S. G. Batman, Esq., called the meeting to order and nominated Rev. David Bogel as chairman. The speakers of the evening were J. W. Donnigan, Esq., and Gen. Charles Hamlin, who discussed the issues of the pending campaign in a candid and convincing manner which called forth much applause. The meeting closed by eloquent remarks of the chairman and ringing cheers for Blaine and Logan, Robie and Boutelle, the speakers and the new and handsome campaign flag which was flung to the breeze at sunset. Gains are reported over the last election return and Plymouth may be relied upon to do her duty in sustaining the ticket next Monday.

Senator Cullom at Veazie.

The Republicans of Veazie will have a treat this evening, when they will be addressed by Senator Cullom, of Illinois, an able and eloquent speaker, and the chairman of the Illinois delegation who threw the vote of that State for Blaine in the National Convention.

Amherst

The Town House at Amherst was too small to contain the large number of Republicans who assembled on Monday evening to listen to an address by Judge A. P. Wiswell, of Ellsworth. Mr. Frank Foster presided and Judge Wiswell's speech was candid and convincing. It was a good meeting and will be productive of good results.

Good Meeting at Easton.

In spite of the rain last Friday night there was a good attendance at the meeting of the Blaine and Logan Club. The first speaker was Edward Wiggin, Esq., of Maysville, who spoke about an hour in a sound, sensible and candid manner, making of the best speeches delivered here during the campaign. Mr. Wiggin is a man of ideas and he always succeeds in making them understood by his hearers. He was followed by Rev. George M. Park, of Presque Isle, who made one of his vigorous and pointed speeches, giving his reasons for supporting Blaine and Logan. The last speaker was Mr. Columbus Hayford, of Maysville, an ex-Greenbacker. The meeting was a success and enjoyed by all.

ON TRIAL.

State vs. Frank Hersch.

Alden Pettingill of Orono, a blacksmith, who had been in the business fourteen years, testified that he was in the habit of shoeing a great many horses the same way that Mr. Lord's was shod.

C. A. Johnston of Brewer and John Bartlett of Bangor, both blacksmiths, testified that it was a common occurrence to shoe horses in a similar manner to that of Mr. Lord's.

George H. Smith, hostler in T. Nichols' stable, Bangor, said that in the spring they had many horses shod in that manner.

Daniel Page of Orono, hostler in T. H. Norris' stable, testified that Briggs, Beale and another man came to a stable in Orono and measured a carriage the morning after the fire, and said that it agreed with his former measurements.

Augustus E. Stolmann of Alton stated that a good many horses were shod with a calk on the outside of the hind shoe. Witness said he owned an overcoat and on the night of the fire it was at his father's house in Alton.

Rufus A. Taylor of Alton testified that he delivered an overcoat to Mr. Cushman after the fire.

Hiram L. Willey of Hudson said he visited the scene of the fire last Friday and found fire-crackers near the ruins. They looked old, and their covering had faded.

Bradford B. Southard also testified to finding the crackers and of calling the attention of other gentlemen to them.

Lewis R. Carl of Hudson also saw the fire-crackers and picked them up. Produced them.

Fred P. Briggs, merchant in Hudson, had crackers for sale, beginning the 17th of June. On the night of the fire discovered a rubber track leading away from the fire.

Russell P. Spratt, ten years old, testified he had used fire-crackers on the day of the fire near Mr. Oliver's house in company with Fred Oliver. It was about six o'clock in the evening when we were using them.

Charles P. Clark of Hudson saw Frank Hersch on the night of the fire and rode with him about one-fourth of a mile.

Mrs. Eleanor A. Orcutt of Pushaw Falls saw Frank Hersch the night of the fire and rode with him.

Mrs. Frances E. Holmes of Porter's Mills, saw Frank Hersch riding toward his father's house on the night of the fire.

Charles Holmes, of Porter's Mills, saw Frank Hersch at the same time as the preceding witness and also heard a team pass his house about midnight going toward Stillwater. Said the roads were in very bad condition.

Cross-examined. Said that the road was not very much traveled in the night.

Charles P. Clark, recalled, and Joseph A. Griffin, both testified to hearing a team pass their house on the night of the fire, and in the middle of the night. Charles Griffin and the last witness both testified that the condition of the road was very bad.

Ira Weymouth and Laura A. Weymouth both testified to hearing the team pass by. Joseph Griffin said that Mr. Briggs told him that the tracks were followed with difficulty.

Rufus Badger, of Stillwater, testified that Mr. Briggs told him that he tracked the team from Orono to Hudson and from the latter place to Orono again.

Mrs. Southard, of Hudson, said she saw the fire in the fence near the barn early in the evening, and was awakened later in the night by the light of the fire.

Cross-examined—Said the fire was just passing from the fence to the barn.

Francis A. Hersch, the respondent, took the stand. Am 28 years old. For five or six years have made my home at Oliver's in Hudson. Had been going with Mabel two years. Were engaged to be married and were to be married this year. Was sick last winter. First heard of breaking off the engagement the Sunday before the fire, when Mabel told him that her father objected to the match. Witness stated the conversation that took place between him and Mabel in relation to the breaking off of their engagement. Said he and Oliver's folks parted good friends. Had a sleigh in Oliver's barn at the time of the fire. Night of the fire hired Albert Lord's team and went to my father's at Alton tannery. Said he saw Glidden at Pushaw Falls and had a talk with him about the work in Stillwater. Found my mother abed when I got home. Described the clothes that he wore on the night of the fire. Said he had no overcoat. Started for home shortly after eleven o'clock that night. Remember seeing the light of a fire on my way home. First heard of the fire through Mr. Mayo. Was sick after breakfast and went to Lord's and asked him to carry me up home. First learned that I was suspected of the fire through Mr. Lord.

Cross-examined—Said he was very strongly attached to Mabel Oliver and it was quite a blow to him to have that engagement broken off. Told what clothing he left at the Oliver house. Went out to Pushaw on the night of the fire to see Glidden, and to see my mother. Knew that the latter was not very well. Did not make the statements to Glidden that he testified to.

A Temperance Prayer Meeting.

Inasmuch as our several societies are greatly interested in the Constitutional Amendment and devoutly desire its triumph by an overwhelming majority, and inasmuch as the lecture of Hon. John B. Finch, of Nebraska, its most gifted advocate, occurs this evening, on the night of our regular prayer meeting, by which many might be prevented from the advantages of such an address, we therefore, the pastors of our several churches, do hereby invite all our people to unite in a temperance prayer meeting this evening at Norombega Hall, at 7 o'clock sharp. The meetings at the churches will be omitted. Let there be a full attendance and earnest prayers from all who pray that the divine blessing may be upon us. The prayer meeting will be brief, only occupying the time before the lecture is to commence.

MASS MEETING AT LEWISTON. Attention is called to the advertisement of the grand Republican mass meeting at Lewiston on Friday night, when HON. JAMES G. BLAINE will be present, and a long list of able speakers will address the meeting. In the evening there will be a magnificent torchlight parade in which companies from every city and many of of the towns in the State will take part. Persons can leave this city by the 7.20 A. M. train, or by special train at 3 50 P. M. Fare for the round trip at the low price of $1.50. Returning a special train will leave Lewiston at 10 P. M., or after the parade is over.

Renounces Democracy

AN IRISH-AMERICAN WHO DECLARES FOR THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

Mr. J. J. Maher, of Augusta, an Irish American Catholic and former Democrat, has written a letter to the Kennebec Journal announcing that he shall hereafter act with the Republican party. Referring to the Madigan circular he says:

When the Catholic voters of the United States, and especially of this State, carefully consider who was mostly interested in the fight against Mr. Madigan they will not hesitate to form an opinion as to the authorship of the circular. Neither will the affidavits, coming from whom they do, in the last issue of Plaisted's paper, the New Age, influence them. Many of our people in this city well know the prejudice that one of the proprietors of the New Age has against the Catholics or "dam Irishmen," as he terms them. Undoubtedly he remembers a little incident that occurred, as well as the insults offered several years ago by him to a Catholic priest then located in this city.

Such affidavits will have no bearing on the intelligent Catholic voters of this country. I was always a Democrat until 1876, since then, a Greenback Democrat. I have never voted the Republican ticket, but since recalling the flimsy affidavits and knowing from whence they came, in the last issue of the New Age, and believing that Cleveland is an enemy to the working man, I, as well as other Irish-Americans, will vote the Republican ticket next Monday, and in November for the Hon. James G. Blaine.

It is a fact that a majority of the Catholic voters of this country have always voted the Democratic ticket, and what have they ever gained from that party? Simply nothing; but Democratic taffy as usual, and now we are asked to support Cleveland, a man whose record and character are stained with bitter gall. It is for the interest of every loyal Catholic and Irishman in this country to help defeat him. A man who is a true Catholic or has a drop of Irish blood in his body, who believes in freedom, instead of bondage, will strike the shackles of Democracy from his shoulders, and vote more independently than to vote for Cleveland, a man full of vetoes against workingmen and in favor of free trade and English tyranny.

It has been reported that no Catholic tax-payers in this city would vote for Mr. Blaine, and an article was recently sent from this city to the Boston Pilot, saying that Mr. Blaine was not very popular among the Catholics here. These statements are false. The facts are that Mr. Blaine is very popular with the Catholics in this city as well as in this State, and some of the largest Catholic tax payers in this city as well as many others will vote for Mr. Blaine in November and the Republican ticket for State officers next Monday, knowing that a vote for Robie means a vote for James G. Blaine.

A New Democratic Infamy.

[From the New York Tribune.]

The Democratic party is notorious for its infamous crimes in Presidential years. In 1864 it advocated a craven and dishonorable peace. That was a crime which the patriotism of the country has never forgiven. In 1868 it carried New York State by systematic frauds on a large scale at the ballot-box. That was a flagrant outrage upon political liberty. In 1876 it entered into a conspiracy to buy up the electoral votes of three States. That was a scandal without precedent in the political history of the country, and by the cipher dispatches it was brought home to the political managers of the Democratic party and to the household of their candidate for the Presidency. In 1880, on the eve of the election, the infamous Morey letter was forged and circulated from Maine to California by the Democratic National Committee. The chairman of that Committee was charged with inciting the forgery, with [illegible] its genuineness, and with attempting to sustain it by employing the ingenuity of [illegible] in subsequent forgeries and [illegible] witnesses. That was a crime, or rather a series of crimes, against public morals. It was one of the [illegible] and most contemptible tricks imaginable, and its political uses were [illegible] by means of bribery, false perjury, fraud and perjury.

Every Presidential year has its characteristic Democratic crime against liberty and public morals. What new infamy have the Democrats in store for the American people this year? Anything more flagrant than the cipher disclosures or more [illegible] than the Morey forgery? Has [illegible] exhausted its resources of [illegible] Is there a lower depth of partisan malice and [illegible] to be sounded in the present canvass? Is a corrupt Democracy already rigging and squirming to surpass its own infamous by a new and more abominable outrage upon public decency? [illegible]

What is this story of the defacement of [illegible] grave in Maine? In the cemetery at Augusta has stood for nearly thirty [years] a white stone erected to the memory of Mr. Blaine's son, Stanwood. There it was a spot consecrated by parental love and grief, and the little stone was silent testimony to a sacred sorrow — the first [illegible] of a happy and honored [illegible] Now the story is told that [illegible] act of vandalism. That grave has been secretly visited, the last figure [illegible] record of the child's birth has been chiselled away and defaced and the date [illegible] 18, 1851, has been made to read June [illegible] 185— It is also known that two photographic negative plates of the defaced [stone] showing the altered date were taken [after] this act of vandalism was committed, [and] these are reported to have been [illegible] for Western customers," and copies [of] the plates are said to have been sent to [Democratic] newspaper offices in various [cities].

[Now] until the final hoof is actually seen [stirring] the mud at the bottom, it is never [safe] to [say] in what degree within the Democratic [illegible] this desecration of an innocent child's [grave] has the aspect of a cruder and more [despicable] outrage even than the infamous Morey forgery. Mr. Blaine, in order to defend the honor of his wife and family from a vile slander has branded it as an atrocious lie, and the plain evidence and his prompt [action] fixed the slanderer by the throat and [brought] him to the bar. Why this invasion of [the] cemetery in Augusta, and the defacement and alteration of the date on the [stone] within four days, if not for the purpose of manufacturing evidence to bolster up the infamous Democratic slander? Why have negatives of that defaced tombstone been sent to Democratic newspaper offices throughout the country, unless for reproduction, precisely as plates of the Morey forgery were scattered last and West by order of the Democratic National Committee? Is Democracy now to be charged with the worst of the long series of infamous crimes which have overwhelmed it with reproach in Presidential [years]?

Yet all this is done, in the Morey forgery, in the interest of Democracy hypocritically [illegible] of purity and reform, and [illegible] to snow its [illegible] [illegible] defeat.—N. Y. Tribune.

Political Points.

Among the [illegible] which have evoked the [illegible] of Irish Americans to Mr. [illegible] candidacy, the Irish World [illegible]:

"The many [illegible] proofs given of Cleveland's subserviency to the monopolists, his [illegible] contempt for the rights, feelings and comfort of the workingmen, the prompt, pronounced and arrogant utterance of the English press in his favor, with their echoes in the pro-British papers here."

The Rev. Washington Gladden, who was prominent in the Independent [illegible] from [illegible] to Cleveland, calls for the withdrawal of the latter in favor of [illegible].

"If such a change is not made within a fortnight, another conference of Independents ought to be called at New York, to nominate candidates for whom no apologies will need to be made. We might not elect them, but we could show our good will."

Apparently Mr. Gladden was not one of the Independent Republicans to whom the facts about the Buffalo scandal were communicated before the conference is [illegible].

Ipswich in 1634.

At the recent quarter millennial celebration of the town of Ipswich, the following among other curious incidents in the early history of the place, were alluded to or related:

"The minister's salary was shortened if he shortened his discourse.

"In 1661 the Selectmen were ordered to sell the farm of a man and woman who had made the distance an excuse for their absence from the sanctuary.

"A person could not be a freeman till he had experienced a change of heart.

"Fence viewers to be elected in town meeting, had first to have been elected from the church in the councils of Heaven."

"And it was of no use for a man to aspire to be a town crier who was not sound on the question of original sin."

Gov. Winthrop himself on one occasion walked the entire distance from Boston to Ipswich, to exercise among them the spirit of prophecy.

GRAY'S SPECIFIC MEDICINE.

TRADE MARK. The GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY. An unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Impotency, and all Diseases that follow as a sequence of Self-Abuse; as loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, pain in the back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption and a Premature Grave.

BEFORE TAKING. AFTER TAKING.

Beware of advertisements to refund money, when druggists from whom the medicine is bought do not refund, but refer you to the manufacturers, and the requirements are such that they are seldom, if ever, complied with. See their written guarantee. A trial of one single package of Gray's Specific will convince the most skeptical of its real merits.

On account of counterfeits we have adopted the Yellow Wrapper, the only genuine.

Full particulars in our pamphlet, which we desire to send free by mail to every one. The Specific Medicine is sold by all druggists at $1 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent free by mail on receipt of the money, by addressing

Weekly Courier.

CAMPAIGN EDITION FOR 1884.

The proprietors of the WHIG AND COURIER, in compliance with requests by many leading Republicans, and with a desire to promote the dissemination of Republican principles, and to aid in assuring the most emphatic Republican triumph in the approaching Presidential election, have decided to furnish the WEEKLY COURIER for three months during the campaign, at a price hardly covering the cost of the white paper. The COURIER is the largest weekly paper published in New England, each number is accompanied with a two page supplement, and will be furnished

Three Months from Date of Subscribing, for 25 Cents.

This offer to continue until September 1, 1884. Send in subscriptions at once.

The Republican Town Committees and all citizens who are interested in the success of the Republican cause, are invited to aid us in placing the campaign edition of the WEEKLY COURIER in the hands of every voter who is not now a subscriber.

ROUGH ON DYSPEPSIA.

BANGOR, Nov. 19th 1883.

I have suffered for a long time from indigestion. My food distressed me for hours after eating. I commenced using Dr. MANLY HARDY'S GENUINE JAUNDICE BITTERS, and from the first dose I found relief. I am now comparatively free from it, but when I do have a recurrence of the trouble, one swallow of this medicine will carry down the distress in a moment.

FOR SALE.

Sale of Lands of the Emerson Estate.

The following described Real Estate in the city of Bangor, formerly owned by the late William Emerson.

1. The house and grounds at the corner of Union and Second Sts., being 264 ft. on Second St., and 177½ ft. on Union St., formerly the Emerson homestead and recently occupied by the late James S. Rowe. One of the best locations in the city, immediately opposite the terminus of High St. and only five minutes walk from the Post Office. Any one not desirous of holding the whole property after purchase, could sell lots from the same to suit his convenience. Any one not desirous of purchasing the whole can buy a lot from the rear, 100 ft. front on Second St.

2. A very desirable lot of land for building purposes at the corner of Second and Cedar Streets, 125x120 ft., less than ten minutes walk from the Post Office.

3. A large tract of land at the corner of Cedar and Third Sts., opposite the residence of F. P. Wood, being 2[illegible] ft. on Third St., and on Sanford St., and 2[illegible] ft. on Cedar St. A fine location for building purposes.

4. A lot of land at the corner of Cedar and Sanford Sts., 100 ft. on Cedar St. and 127 on Sanford St.

5. A lot of land on Cedar St. between St. Mary's Catholic Church and First St. 79 feet on Cedar St. and 150 on First St.

6. [A lot] of land on the corner of First St. and Rowe St. [illegible], or the easterly side of First St. and the southerly side of Rowe [illegible] 112 ft. on First St. and 218 ft. on Rowe St.

7. A lot of land on the corner of First St. and a continuation of the so-called "Rowe St." lying southerly of said continuation of "Rowe St." and westerly of First St. and extending through to the line of Second St., 155 ft. on First St., 249 ft. on said continuation of Rowe St. and 183 ft. on the line of the continuation of Second St.

8. A lot on the continuation of Second St., immediately in the rear of the premises owned by John Hickey, 75 ft. on said continuation line and running back eastward 82 ft. on the continuation line of the so-called "Rowe St."

9. Lots of land lying westerly of Front St., easterly of Pleasant St. and Northerly of Court St.

10. Brick stores 1[illegible], 1[illegible], 153 and 153 [illegible] St.

The above described property has not been in the market before and the owners now offer it for sale on reasonable terms to close an estate. Much of this property is very desirably situated, being near the centre of the city and well adapted for building purposes, and land of this character is not to be easily obtained.
